

SHENANDOAH HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY
JOHN H. GRABILL

WOODSTOCK, VIRGINIA.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1906.

MANY comments have been made upon the action of President Roosevelt in dismissing three companies of colored soldiers from the United States service, on account of the bad conduct of some of the members of those companies, in shooting citizens. The complaint is that the President has punished the innocent with the guilty.

Some members of the companies were innocent of the crime, but in protecting and refusing to inform upon the guilty parties, they have disgraced the uniform of the army. The President is right and deserves the thanks of all law abiding citizens. He would have been as prompt in punishing white soldiers for the same offence, but that would not have aroused the sympathies of the negro loving philanthropists who were so quick to condemn the President.

The Evening Star, of Winchester, has purchased the good will and appurtenances of the Evening News-Item and the Weekly News. Beginning on Monday next the News-Item will be published as a morning paper and the Weekly News will be published as a morning paper, for the present. A $7000.00 duplex press which will print and fold 110 papers a minute will be installed. This will give Winchester a morning and evening paper. The Star is a good paper and we enjoy reading it and we would read it regularly if it would come regularly. It always reaches here one day late and sometimes fails to put in its appearance at all. We are not complaining but we hate to miss so good a thing.

The compilation of the assessed value of the Telephone, Telephone and Express Companies doing business in the State of Virginia has been issued by the State Corporation Commission. The following companies are assessed on their property in Shenandoah county:

Farmers Mutual Telephone System	$3,155.00
Frederick and Shenandoah Telephone Co.	195.00
Shenandoah County Telephone Co.	2015.50
Southern Bell Telephone Co.	2304.00
United Telephone and Telegraph Co.	90.00
Western Union Tel. Co.	4706.01
Southern Express Co.	270.00
United States Express Co.	80.00

The amount assessed against the Southern Express Company includes the property of the Company in the towns—Edinburg has $38.00, Mt. Jackson, $73.00; Strasburg $16.00 and Woodstock $52.00. The Southern Express Company operates on 403 miles of railroad in Virginia and in addition to taxes pays $2,750.00 license.

Sheep Killed.

The Board of Supervisors allowed a number of sheep claims at their regular annual meeting Tuesday. The largest claim presented was that of John A. Brill, of Stonewall district, for $300.00, he having had five sheep killed and five wounded. The highest priced sheep that was captured by dogs was one belonging to J. R. Gochenour appraised at $8.00. The smallest amount claimed was for the wounding of a lamb which suffered 75 cents worth of damage. Mr. J. L. Burner of Woodstock was allowed $13.00 for dog depredations, and a number of other smaller claims received the Board's O. K.

Purifying Foley's Honey and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds.

Upon awakening last Saturday morning Constable T. H. Samuel, of Verina district, Henrico county, found his wife dead by his side. How long she had been dead he does not know.

Cure for Sore Nipples.

As soon as the child is done nursing, apply Chamberlain's Salve. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the child to nurse. Many trained nurses use this with the best results. Price 25 cents per box. For sale at Schnitz's Drug Store.

After a misunderstanding over crops at Arlington, Nelson county, John Johnson, colored, a tenant of J. N. Moore, shot Moore in his store, killing him instantly. The negro escaped.

Need a good cathartic? A pill is best. Say a pill like DeWitt's Little Early Risers. About the most reliable on the market. Sold by Walton and Smoot.

A Democratic Opportunity.

"Savoyard" in Washington Post.

As for our old friend, the Democratic party—what a lovely old cuss it is. Benevolence is its besetting sin. Endowed with all the virtues of statesmanship and politics, it must needs go out and gather in all the vagaries of Bryan and Lyman Trumbull. In New York the other day it went out and picked up William R. Hearst and all his impossibilities. What it will do in 1908 God only knows. It went down in defeat with Bryan twice; it went down in defeat with Hearst once. One glorious thing about it is that it can stand punishment enough to kill a dozen parties founded in error.

And it is full of fight, right now, and pretty particularly dangerous, too. If it should have a few grains of common sense in 1908, there is no telling what might happen. At present it looks as though Bryan would be the nominee in 1908. If he is he will be beaten. There is nothing more certain than that, and the worst of it will be that numerous Southern States will revolt. Brilliant orator and whirlwind campaigner that he is, Mr. Bryan is not a wise counselor. His mind is tempestuous rather than calm; shallow rather than deep. No such man has ever been elected President, and he is the only one of the kind, unless John C. Fremont be an exception, who has ever been nominated for President by a great party.

But suppose the democratic party should have a lucid interval and seek a real candidate where he is to be found—at the South. There are plenty of them—Daniel, Tillman, Bacon, Williams, Bailey, Culberson. That is what the Democratic party will do if it should come to its senses. Either of these would get more electoral votes at the South than Bryan or Hearst possibly could, and as many at the North as either could. Let the South fling her banner on the outer wall, choose a favorite son, to go to the convention and demand his nomination, and until the South does that, it is not very likely that we will get a Democratic President.

Ben Tillman is bluff, blunt, honest, intensely Southern, and intensely American. He can get more votes in Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, and Minnesota, than Bryan or Hearst, and I make no doubt that against the man the Republicans are likely to nominate he can get a batch of electoral votes out of that squad. And why not? His only fault is he speaks the truth. Can you find one in him? I have tried and failed. Will some gentleman put me on the track of one? There he is standing up before the American people, his heart on his sleeve, and all can see that he would not flatter Neptune for his trident nor Jove for his power to thunder. He, too, would carry a big stick and a deck of cards.

Not as able a man as Bailey, perhaps; not as cultured a man as Williams, certainly; not as self-poised as Culberson, manifestly; he has more of the human in him than any of them. If every voter of the United States knew Ben Tillman by hand grasp, had rubbed up against him, felt his splendid personality, realized his wonderful individuality, he would be the next President of the United States as sure as the American people put character above place.

The democratic party is invincible when it is united and impotent when it is divided. It has been demonstrated that Mr. Bryan cannot unite it. It was shown that Judge Parker could not unite it. It is clear Mr. Hearst cannot unite it.

Any man at the North who would vote for any one of these three would vote for Ben Tillman—that is to say, unless Mr. Hearst should run as an Independence League candidate, as he probably will. And if he does he will poll as many Republican votes as he will Democratic.

Certain it is, the country is tired. The times are out of joint. For the republican party the returns are ominous. The election was not a vote of confidence in even the Roosevelt administration—certainly not in the G. O. P. It is also here that the returns say to the Democrats in every language and in every dialect of every language: "You are too big a fool to be given place and power at this time."

Put Ben Tillman on a safe and sane platform and let him tour the North, splitting out the truth, as only he can do it, and we would see a good many things in the returns we wot not of. Truth is mighty. Let us Democrats try it, if only for a chance.

It is a Pity.

That a man should be so forgetful of the fact that he lives in a christian community, envied by civilizing influences, as to use the cross surmounting a church as a target for his marksmanship, is beyond comprehension. Only one with an india rubber conscience and a past master at vandalism would be guilty of a thing of the sort. Yet such people do exist. The cross on the Episcopal church was taken down a few days ago and a dozen perforations, made by rifle balls attested the existence of some degenerated skunk who could not even spare a house of worship in his endeavor to practice at a target. It is consoling to know that his kind are the exceptions and not the rule.

McCue Heirs Lose Suit.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 25.—The suit of the estate of J. Samuel McCue, Charlottesville's ex-mayor, who was hanged for wife-murder, against the Northwestern Life Insurance Company for the recovery of $15,000 due on a policy on the life of McCue, has been decided by Judge Henry Clay McDowell, of the United States District Court for the Western District of Virginia, adversely to the estate, and the children of the hanged man will therefore, lose the entire benefit of the policy.

DEATH OF MISS NANNIE HICKMAN.

The sudden death of Miss Nannie O. Hickman, youngest daughter of Dr. Joseph N. and Mrs. Alice Hickman, on last Thursday evening came as a shock to her many friends. Though for years she has been suffering from rheumatism her condition had improved so much recently that a complete recovery was anticipated. About a week before her death she contracted a severe cold, which developed rapidly into pneumonia and the seriousness of her condition was scarcely realized before she passed away.

Miss Hickman was twenty years old, July 18th, and was an attractive christian girl, esteemed by her acquaintances and loved by her friends. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. She was buried in Cover Hill Cemetery last Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. B. B. White, her pastor, officiating. The funeral services were held at the home of her parents. Besides her father and mother, she leaves five sisters, Mrs. Lon Hardy, of Friendsville, Md., Mrs. Frank Wissler, of Strasburg, Mrs. Clayton Triplett, of Baltimore and Misses Katie and Winnie Hickman, who live at home, and two brothers, Messrs. Tom and Ed. Hickman. She had a number of relatives in Woodstock.

Condemned 60,000 Pounds of Game.

Richmond, Nov. 26.—During the week the inspectors of the health department have condemned 60,000 pounds of poultry and game, consisting of partridges, pheasants, and thousands of rabbits. The poultry was dressed. It made sixteen double wagon loads, and the inspectors followed it to the crematory and saw it incinerated before leaving.

Rockingham Adds to Her List of Tragedies.

Brooding over the loss of her child, who died nine years ago and believing that she would join her in another world, Mrs. Lizzie Linhoss committed suicide by hanging, near Dayton, Rockingham county, at nine o'clock last Saturday morning. Her husband Adam H. Linhoss is a son of Conrad Linhoss, and a native of Shenandoah county and the mother of the unfortunate victim was a Miss Wetzel of the same county. The dead body was found suspended from a rafter of an outhouse about an hour after the commission of the deed. Three children and her husband survive her. The funeral was held in the Methodist church, Dayton, on Saturday afternoon.

MAURERTOWN.

Mrs. Benjamin Pravel, had the misfortune to receive several bruises on last Sunday morning by slipping on the walk and falling on rocks.

Our village was excited last Sunday by the alarm of fire. It was about 11 o'clock, a freight train had just passed south a few minutes before smoke and flames were seen coming from the roof of an ice house, owned by Miss Maggie Funkhouser. Our bucket brigade turned out and in a short time had it under control. The house is only about 20 feet from the large store room occupied by J. B. Clem, jr. which on the south is only a few feet from the residence of Miss Funkhouser, on the north it adjoins the tin store and hardware buildings of S. J. Spiker, and other buildings very close. Had the accident occurred late in the night it undoubtedly would have burnt both the stores, two dwellings and possibly more. The damage to the ice house was two-thirds of the roof and some damage to the sides. It is presumed to have been set on fire by the passing freight train.

On Monday morning the construction camp of the Southern Railroad commenced work on the depot at this place. It will be 51 feet 2 inches in length and 21 feet 3 inches wide, two waiting rooms, white and colored, office, toilet room, trainmen room and freight warehouse. There will be a projection of 6 feet around the entire building and the side track will be removed so that the platform can be placed between the main and side track with ample room for passengers and express. The foreman Mr. Wilker states it will be ready for occupancy within 60 days provided they have fair weather until the building is under roof. The depot will be much appreciated by the town and surrounding neighborhood, as we have all been sorely tried with box car accommodation for the past 18 months.

The foundation is being put up for the residence of Mrs. Cyrus Fetter, on the railroad lot which Dr. Shaver received in the exchange of properties with the Southern. This is a desirable situation for a home and it will be pushed to completion.

On Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock Rev. E. B. Shaver united in marriage at his residence, Miss Stella Phillips and Mr. Chas. Gaston, both of Winchester, the bride is a daughter of W. C. Phillips formerly a resident of Toms Brook, but for several years has been living in Winchester. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to Toms Brook where they will be visitors among the old friends of the bride for several days.

Killing Some.

For the fiscal year just ending, it cost Shenandoah County $137.50 for slaughtering wild cats and foxes. Claims for killing 121 grey foxes, 16 red foxes and 26 wild cats were approved at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday. Johnston District furnished the largest number of scalps. It was suggested that owing to the criminal activity in Rockingham county the "critters" are moving across the line into Shenandoah for safety and that this influx is the cause of the large number of claims presented.

New Pavements.

Mr. John S. Hoshour is working a force of hands laying a new pavement in front of the residence of Hon. J. M. Bauserman. He will also put down a pavement between the North corner of Dr. Ford's property and the home of Mr. W. H. Newman. With these two links, the West side of Muhlenberg street will be paved almost its entire length.

Timberville Blaze.

A fire originated in a fire of the residence of Mr. C. G. Ritchie, threatening the destruction of Timberville, Tuesday afternoon. Telling work by a bucket brigade checked the flames, though Mr. Ritchie's home was entirely destroyed. The furniture was saved. At one time the school house caught from sparks, but it was quickly extinguished. The loss is $1000.

Mr. Haun—Miss Bowman.

Mr. Harry G. Haun, a son of the late Joseph Haun, of Shenandoah county, married Miss Callie M. Bowman, at Washington, last Thursday evening. Miss Bowman is the daughter of Mr. Joseph M. Bowman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. McLaughlin.

HAY'S MAJORITY 3201.

The State Canvassing Board finished their labors on Monday and gave out the official vote of the several congressional districts. In the 7th district James Hay received 5273 votes and Beecher 2372. Saunders majority in the 5th district was 222 and Slempe defeated Bruce in the 9th district by 2041.

Idle Dollars EARN NOTHING.

There are Thousands of Dollars in Shenandoah County lying idle. If this money was in the banks it would add a great stimulus to the business of the Community, and at the same time bring an income to its owner.

Why not deposit the $50 or $100 that you have been saving for a "rainy day" with us, where it will earn you 3 per cent. interest; where it will be safe, and where you can get it when you want it?

NOW LOOK OUT

FOR WATCH TROUBLES.

The cold weather is apt to harden the oil that strains the main spring and offends the motion. It is the wisest thing you can do to have me examine your watch at this time of year, if it is not in good order, and the life of your watch will be nearly double if it is thoroughly and properly cleaned and oiled once a year, the old oil in the movements becomes gummy in time, and with the fine dust and grit that works in, will cause friction and wear, if neglected, if your watch stops occasionally, or loses time, or shows any other symptoms of being overworked it is time you bring it to me for examination, every watch that I clean or repair is GUARANTEED FOR ONE YEAR and prices as low as can be had by any first class watch maker and jeweler.
